Reports Name Long List Of Movie Stars

Quick Retorts On Allegations Of 'Commie' Leanings

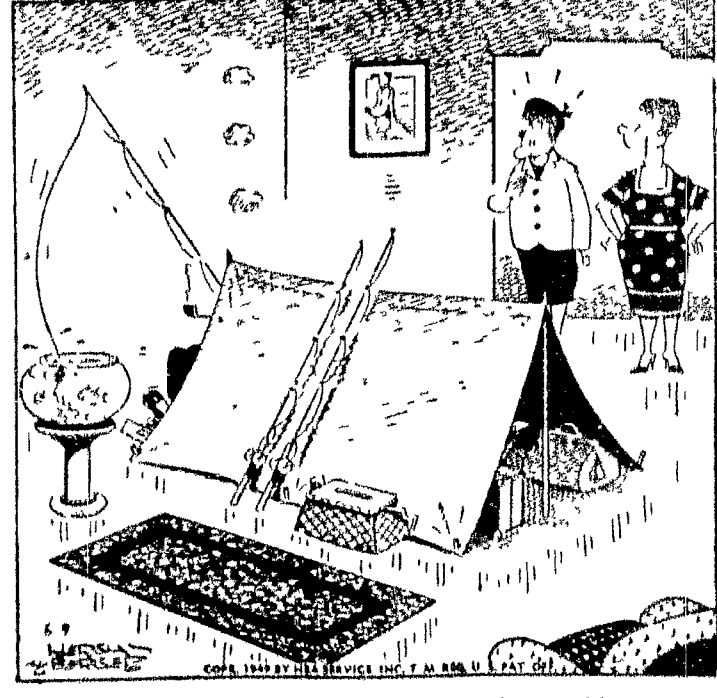

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—The House of Representatives today received a long list of names of movie stars and other celebrities who are alleged to have "Commie" leanings. The list was compiled by a committee of the House, which is investigating the activities of communists in the United States.

The list includes names such as: Charles Chaplin, Buster Keaton, George Raft, and many others. The committee is holding hearings on the matter, and the names are being released to the public as part of its investigation.

Many of the names have been the subject of controversy in the past, and the release of this list has caused a great deal of discussion. Some people believe that the list is a fair representation of the individuals who are suspected of having communist sympathies, while others believe that it is a list of names that have been unfairly targeted.

The committee is continuing its work, and it is expected that more names will be released in the coming weeks.

Boy, 10, Tells How He Caused Death of Three

Imprisoned His Playmates in Discarded Icebox

JONESBORO, Ark., June 9.—(AP)—The Jonesboro Sun today quoted James (Bud) Chesner, 10, as denying he was responsible for the deaths of his young niece and two other children near Walnut Ridge, Ark., last Friday.

"I didn't even go to the (Ed Chastain) house last Friday," he told Eugene Smith of the Sun staff in an interview.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Helen Chesner, and aunt, Mrs. Nadine Smith, also denied that "Bud" locked the door of an ice box into which three children had crawled during a game of "I Spy."

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark., June 9.—(AP)—A red-headed boy of 10, sobbing and looking lost, told his mother and aunt that he had caused the deaths of three playmates by imprisoning them in a discarded ice box.

State police investigator H. H. Peterson said the case solving story was related by James (Bud) Chesner, an uncle of one of the victims, all farm children who lived near Walnut Ridge.

Young Chesner was released to the custody of his father, Peter Chesner, who said he was doubtful that any charge would be filed in view of the youngster's age.

However, Prosecutor Millard Hadden of Newport, who said the child had been "in the house" on possibility of charges.

The victims were James (Bud) Chesner, 10, and his two sisters, Mary and Shirley Ann, 8 and 6 respectively, and a niece of the Chesner boy.

The tragedy occurred last Friday.

Peterson quoted the boy as saying other children climbed into the small, old-fashioned wooden box while at play and that he

He was unable to open the door and he was crying at it, his mother called him to go to the store to buy Peterson, Hadden, Sheriff Joe Spades and others.

Got Scared
"I got scared and ran home," Peterson quoted him as saying. "I went to the store and then from young Chesner's story, it apparently was only an hour or so before Mrs. Chastain, returning home from work in the cotton fields, opened the ice box door

Her son and Shirley Ann already were dead of suffocation. Joyce Ann died early Saturday.

Condemnation Suit is Filed

A petition for condemnation of land was filed in circuit court today by the city of Sedalia, a Municipal Corporation, against the Elvin Gordon and Ben Gordon.

The petition was filed because the plaintiff and defendants could not agree upon the value of the land owned by the defendants.

It is asserted in the petition that the City Council of the city of Sedalia, plaintiff in this case, did on the 6th day of June, 1949, pass and the Mayor did on the 7th day of June, 1949, approve Ordinance No. 3840 of the Revised Ordinances of the City of Sedalia, determining and declaring that a public necessity exists for the taking of the hereinafter described land, and so for the public use and purpose as a site and location for the construction and maintenance of a sewage pumping station.

The defendants own a three corner piece of land south of the Jackson City, running back to the M-K-T railroad track.

The petition states that said land is owned by the defendants and that in order to carry out the provisions of said ordinance No. 3840, this cause of action is instituted.

The plaintiff asks that three disinterested freeholders, residents of Pettis county, be appointed as commissioners to ascertain and assess the damages for the taking and compensation of said tract of land for the public necessity.

In charge for the plaintiff is Fred E. Wesner, City Councilor.

ACH! IT'S DER ZOAB-POX DERPY—This is a German conception of what a soap-box racer should look like. Race fans gather around the three-wheeled, tub-shaped midge to give it the once over before the Nurnberg Derby. Sponsored by the German Youth Association and copied from the American idea, the derby drew a crowd of 25,000 along the rough, shell-marked course.

Glad Hand Produces Red Face
ALTUS, Okla.—(AP)—The Greeting Committee at the Altus Chamber of Commerce was poised at the local cafe.

In walked Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Capps, of Stillwater, Okla. The greeters descended with handshakes and salutations.

The Capps were overwhelmed, an thanked the chamber for the greeting for tourists. "Tourists," they chorused, "we thought you were new residents."

Through red faces and sheepish grins, the greeters treated the Capps to the coffee they had stopped for.

Although women were not generally enfranchised in the American colonies, tax-paying widows and unmarried women sometimes were permitted to vote.

How Animals Look In Pidgin English

NEW YORK (AP)—Pastor Robert Salau, South Sea Islander who was converted to Christianity and became a pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist church, paid a visit to the Bronx zoo here.

In the pidgin English he learned on his native island of Vela Lavella, he described the animals like this:
Camel—"Long fella, two backs."
Lion—"No, I pussy cat."
Elephant—"Big fella ears."
Hairy Orang-utan—"Long fella grass."

One of the earliest protests asking equal rights for women was published in 1789 in France when Olympe de Gouges showed there was no mention of women in the Revolutionists' Declaration of the Rights of Man.

Game Lasted Four Hours 9 Minutes

Braves Played 15 Innings Before Defeating Reds 3-7

By Jack Hand
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Nels Potter, the pitcher Connie Mack "fired" a year ago, is keeping the Boston Braves in the National League tonight, as the five-man American league castoff put him out front of ace Johnny Sain in the victory column. In the Braves had lost three five games, but in the sixth game of the season, they had won five.

Went on Single
Finally in the 15th after Potter had struck out seven men, the Braves won on Jim Russell's single to left field. The game was a 15-inning affair, with the Braves leading 3-1, behind Rex Barney's two-hit pitching.

Brooklyn's Pitcher
The St. Louis Cardinals continued to improve, sweeping the 13th straight and 14th out of 16 by shutting out New York 2-0. Gerry Staley made his first complete game, a five-inning effort on the heels of Harry Brecheen's Tuesday night.

The Phillies' Home
The Phillies' home players did the trick in a 2-0 whitewash of the local Pittsburgh Pirates. Stan Holbrook, the former Texas Aggie football star, hit his second homer in two days after Del Ennis walked in the sixth. Robin Roberts, another ex-collegian with a bonus contract, blanked the Braves with six hits for his sixth win to these setbacks.

Athletics Win 9 To 3 Over Versailles

Sedalians Score Five Runs In The Fourth Inning

The Sedalia Athletics trounced the Versailles Merchants with a 9 to 3 victory on a wet diamond at Liberty Park, Wednesday night. Right-hander Bus Walker was on a league game. Workman Hit Homer For Minneapolis

Big Outfielder Hit 17th Homer Of The Season

By The Associated Press
Charlie Workman, the Southern Association's most valuable player last year, again proved his worth in the rampaging Minneapolis Millers last night. He blasted a grand slam homer in the last of the ninth to defeat Indianapolis, 6 to 2.

By The Associated Press
The victory sent Minneapolis only four games behind pace-setting St. Paul.

By The Associated Press
Bobby March, Toledo's rookie left-hander, held St. Paul to four scattered hits, as the Mudhens downed the Saints 4 to 1.

Winches by Kansas City pitchers handed Columbus the second game of a doubleheader 7 to 5, after the Red Birds had edged out a 2 to 1 triumph over the Blue Sox in the first.

By The Associated Press
Charlie Stancek hurled a three-hitter for Columbus to shade Kansas City in the first game. In the nightcap, Cleveland scored the winning run in the sixth inning when Jim Tole gave up a base on balls with the bases full. Jim Howerton, Red Bird centerfielder, hit a home run in the same inning with the bases empty.

ST. LOUIS, June 9—(AP)—Fred M. Saigh, president of the St. Louis Cardinals, announced yesterday he has notified contracts to Max Lanier, Fred Martin and Lou Kopp, offering them the same salaries for which they contracted prior to their departure to Mexico in 1946.

By The Associated Press
Saigh said his move was prompted by the bulletin issued earlier today by Baseball Commissioner Happy Chandler, who told the clubs how to deal financially with their league jumpers.

By The Associated Press
Upon expiration of the 30-day trial period ordered by the commissioner, I shall be happy to discuss with these players the drawing of new contracts commensurate with their caliber of play," Saigh said.

By The Associated Press
In New York yesterday, Lanier's lawyer said that Saigh had offered the pitcher a contract for $11,000 — his 1946 figure — but Lanier had turned it down. Saigh admitted he had talked by telephone to Lanier, Martin and Kopp, but denied he had mentioned any amount.

Only three K-O-M League games survived the rains last night, but the three were pitching masterpieces.

By The Associated Press
Ponca City hurlers threw two at Pittsburg, winning 6-1 and 8-2. Dick McCoy turned loose a three-hitter in the seven-inning opener and Eddie Nichols authored a two-hitter in the second game.

By The Associated Press
The two hits off Nichols were the scratch variety. The Pittsburg runs came off three walks and a pair of Ponca City errors.

By The Associated Press
Wendy Wuehrich had an easy time at Chandler, pitching Charlie to a 1-1 tie. Wuehrich had a five-hitter through seven innings. Rain washed out the second game of a scheduled doubleheader.

Cardinals Handcuffed Giants 2-0

Staley Cave Redbirds Their Fifth Straight Victory Yesterday

By The Associated Press
The St. Louis Cardinals, having clinched their sixth consecutive victory, continued their devastating four of the eastern seaboard with some of the finest pitching seen this year.

By The Associated Press
Gerald Staley gave the rampant Cardinals their fifth straight triumph and their 14th in 16 games by handcuffing the New York Giants 2-0 yesterday on three hits.

By The Associated Press
Although effective in other appearances this year, the 27-year-old right-hander hadn't pitched a complete game in two years. He now has won three and lost two. His performances gave the Redbirds' pitching corps a slating of 19 scoreless innings. They have given up only five runs in the last five games.

By The Associated Press
Four Straight Left-handers Beaten
Dave Koslo was the fourth straight left-hander beaten by the Cardinals, who marked time in a toughly behind the first-place Brooklyn Dodgers.

By The Associated Press
A single by Eddie Kaskaz, who was guilty of three errors, and a tremendous 460-foot triple by Egan Shalhatter in the sixth accounted for the Cardinals' second run. Charley Diering opened the game with a single and scored on Kaskaz's outfield fly after Stan Musial singled him to third.

3 Top Golfers In Meet Today

By Will Grimley
CHICAGO, June 9—(AP)—Golf's most coveted prize, the U. S. Open championship, comes up for grabs today with three seasonal campaigners — Sam Snead, Bobby Locke and Byron Nelson — in featured roles.

By Will Grimley
The sentimental and 6-7 betting favorite is Snead, the magnificent gambler from West Virginia who already this year has won the Masters and PGA.

By Will Grimley
A triumph in the Open, which in the past has been denied him by a string of atrocious luck, would give the colorful 37-year-old White Sulphur Springs tourist a professional sweep comparable with amateur Bobby Jones' grand slam of 1930.

By Will Grimley
But Stanbarg Sam, after a few days of looking over Medinah's treacherous acres, says "Bobby Locke has the game to win this tournament. No man is straighter off the tee and he's a wonderful putter. That's what will win it."

By Will Grimley
A number of tourney-tough lads who play this sport for groceries give Byron Nelson the "man to beat" tag by the same reckoning. "From tee to green no man is more accurate than Byron," declared Jimmy Demaret, with a chorus of amens from the side.

By Will Grimley
A field of 162 amateurs and pros was scheduled to start on 18-hole round this morning.

By Will Grimley
In Brooklyn, St. John's University of Brooklyn is set to meet Boston college Monday in a best of three series in the eastern NCAA baseball playoffs. The winner will qualify for the national finals at Wichita, Kas.

By Will Grimley
St. John's won the district two playoffs yesterday, whipping Penn State, 7-5. In the deciding contest of a double elimination series, Rutgers and Seton Hall, St. John's which had gone through the early rounds undefeated, lost the first game yesterday to Penn State, 11-4, but came back strong to get the nod.

By Will Grimley
Boston college was selected yesterday to represent district one. The district three NCAA tournament begins at Charlotte, N. C. tonight with Clemson playing Kentucky and Mississippi State playing Richmond.

Membership May Be Increased
In U. S. Hockey League
The CHICAGO, June 9—(AP)—The possible addition of San Antonio, Tex., and Wichita, Kas., to membership in the United States Hockey League was slated for discussion by officers of the loop at its annual meeting today.

By Will Grimley
Officials yesterday held a preliminary session which James C. Dendy, Minneapolis, the league's retiring president, described as the "strictly routine business." He is resigning to become general manager of the Cleveland arena. Club owners were to choose his successor either today or tomorrow.

By Will Grimley
Present membership in the league includes three Texas clubs, Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston, and Tulsa, Okla., Kansas City, Omaha, Neb., Minneapolis and St. Paul.

3 Western Association Series Start Tonight

By The Associated Press
Three new Western Association series start tonight — Salina at Fort Smith, Hutchinson at Muskogee, and St. Joseph at Topeka. The clubs traveled yesterday with only one game scheduled.

Sedalia Blues Journey To Slater Friday Nite

The Sedalia Blues will journey to Slater Friday night where they will meet the Marshall Redbirds at 8:15 o'clock. Marshall defeated Sedalia earlier in the season by a shave, 7-6.

By The Associated Press
True, Donath, Turcheck and Barnes are the Sedalia pitchers and it hasn't been decided yet which one will go on the hill. Weller or Barr will serve behind the plate.

By The Associated Press
The Blues have a season standing of winning three home games and have lost all three of their road games. Two of the road games were dropped by a one point margin.

By The Associated Press
All team members are scheduled to leave for the bridge at 5:45 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Deep Slash In Fund Bills By Committee

Over $17,000,000 Is Trimmed Off Appropriations

JEFFERSON CITY, June 9 (AP)—The Senate appropriations committee whacked more than $17,000,000 Wednesday off four fund bills passed by the House. The total reduction was $17,300,000.

Senator John W. Coffee (D) of Missouri, committee chairman, said he thought the Senate would have to give in to the House on some of the reductions when they met together in conference committee.

The Senate group followed a general line of decreases based on providing lower costs of food and materials bought by the various state institutions and agencies. Noble said.

As passed by the House the four fund bills allotted $442,035,087. The Senate reduction would lower this figure to $424,734,582. This includes state general revenue (tax) and state earnings (fee) funds.

But a reduction of about $9,000,000 in federal matching funds also could be taken off because of cuts in the welfare appropriations.

Reduction in the division of welfare totaled $9,250,000 in state general revenue.

Pensions Hard Hit
Old age pensions were the hardest hit by the Senate committee.

It whacked a total of $7,000,000 of the $54,800,131 set out by the House for pensions for the two year period starting July 1.

Other cuts in the welfare division included $1,000,000 from direct relief, leaving a total of $500,000 from aid to dependent children, leaving $6,500,000, and $750,000 from the division's administration funds, leaving $1,000,000.

Attorneys to all the state mental hospitals were reduced. Noble said that operations and salary funds were cut. But he predicted most of the salary funds would be restored by the conference committee.

State hospital No. 2 at St. Joseph was one of the institutions that felt the Senate group's axe. A total of $10,000 was cut from its total of $2,369,298. From salaries the committee cut off $200,000 from general operation expense $100,000 and from office equipment $100,000.

The same pattern was generally followed in reductions at the other state hospitals.

One of the hardest hit state agencies was the state service officer. His allotment was trimmed a total of $335,000 reducing his total from $740,000 to $405,000. Noble said business in this agency was falling off and the money was not needed.

Among other reductions were $200,000 from the $600,000 set out for the forestry programs of the state forestry commission.

$150,000 from the state highway commission for new office and garage buildings.

State Passes An Anti-Pollution Bill

JEFFERSON CITY, June 9 (AP)—The Missouri House changed its mind overnight on a bill to keep Missouri's streams free of pollution.

The House voted 81 to 40 in favor of the bill Wednesday after defeating it Tuesday 88 to 45. Passage requires 78 votes. The bill now goes to the Senate.

There was little debate when it was brought up for reconsideration. By Rep. D. H. Perryman (D) of Jefferson county, the bill sets up a board to correct present stream pollution practices and guard against future pollution.

Yesterday opponents argued the board would have too much power.

The bill would be voluntarily placed under British sovereignty by their chiefs in 1974.

ISLAND OF ESCAPE

By Hugh Lawrence Nelson

"Through no fault of his own, I can feel your eye on me at that knothole," George shivered, started blanching the sheep.

George watched her start then on the trail toward the fold. "Nona, ever say anything to you about me?"

"I know she's worried and unhappy."

George kicked viciously at a rock.

"Well I've done a lot of things," he yelled and waved his arm. "I've been a chisel and a heel and I've cut corners. But I don't go around with a knife in my hand." He stopped for breath.

Ben said with a scientific interest, "You'll work yourself into a stroke in this heat."

George got purple. "I'll have a stroke if I want to! I don't have to listen to you, or anyone else! You'll Miss Charity, Miss Sweetness and Light. How can you live with yourself, doing what you're doing?"

"What am I doing?"

"You know all right. You're throwing Harding to the wolves!"

(ONCE again "Island of Escape" was prepared for a slight attack by the elements. Henry (though Harding had a physical presence in the doing of the chores. His mind was elsewhere, on some problem over and above the affairs of "Island of Escape".

With early dark, Harding had just turned on the generators to find the house with light when he heard "Silliw" pounded on the back door.

"What's the idea looking up the back?" he demanded.

George, the combe said, "There's going to be a storm. We'll put up here for the night. More comfortable. This house is built to last and the shack isn't."

One big happy family, Nona pointed out. "At least it's light here. We can see what goes on." She looked at Fred Silliw.

George kicked viciously at a rock.

"Well I've done a lot of things," he yelled and waved his arm. "I've been a chisel and a heel and I've cut corners. But I don't go around with a knife in my hand." He stopped for breath.

Ben said with a scientific interest, "You'll work yourself into a stroke in this heat."

George got purple. "I'll have a stroke if I want to! I don't have to listen to you, or anyone else! You'll Miss Charity, Miss Sweetness and Light. How can you live with yourself, doing what you're doing?"

"What am I doing?"

"You know all right. You're throwing Harding to the wolves!"

With early dark, Harding had just turned on the generators to find the house with light when he heard "Silliw" pounded on the back door.

"What's the idea looking up the back?" he demanded.

George, the combe said, "There's going to be a storm. We'll put up here for the night. More comfortable. This house is built to last and the shack isn't."

One big happy family, Nona pointed out. "At least it's light here. We can see what goes on." She looked at Fred Silliw.

ISLAND OF ESCAPE

"Through no fault of his own, I can feel your eye on me at that knothole," George shivered, started blanching the sheep.

George watched her start then on the trail toward the fold. "Nona, ever say anything to you about me?"

"I know she's worried and unhappy."

George kicked viciously at a rock.

"Well I've done a lot of things," he yelled and waved his arm. "I've been a chisel and a heel and I've cut corners. But I don't go around with a knife in my hand." He stopped for breath.

NEW YORK—New multi-purpose baby carriages for the high chair or pram are baby's little of mobility and his parents' carrier for childless for coping with limited living quarters.

Among intriguing new designs which took the spotlight at the recent Our Children's World Exposition at Grand Central Palace were triple duty carriages, high chairs and bassinets with built-in cribs.

A combination pram playpen, for example, when opened up yielded to many surprises in a Chinese box. Expanded in its full size, the new invention looks like a regular or square playpen with wheels and a fold-down table.

For its third position, the reversible table sported a reclining baby bed. For the next two positions, the built-in pram serves as a high chair or a baby's low cot. In its fourth position, the pram is convertible into a bed for teenage girls or small beds for boys.

to that they may be folded against the back and the small table expanded into a minimum space.

Equally inventive in design, another multi-purpose carriage. This carriage has a removable under which hooks easily and firmly on to the metal of the crib. It has a hinged chair table for eating, or for use with the detachable handle removed. The carriage can be covered with a folded blanket or a baby sheet.

The built-in bed with quilted top of vinyl plastic fabric is easy cleaning, but cutting into it and is supposed to fit into front or back of a crib.

One this chair of a baby design, designed to be used when the baby is sitting up, when the baby is lying down, and all backward. Made of plastic with wheels, the chair has a reclining back, a high and built-in foot and handle.

A folding baby bed, called the "convertible bed," can be used in a room, a nursery, or in a child's playpen. The bed is placed on one side, the other side is kept by a pump which is used to convert it into a minimum.

(HOBART, Okla.)—(AP)—Charlie Egan is going to learn to control his enthusiasm when it comes to promoting civic projects. In his column for the Hobart "Hobartian," he innocently remarked that as part of clean-up week he might go so far as to help his landlady with some of the chores around the house. When Klein got home, his landlady had a long list of things for him to do around the house.

New Show Play Considers A Bomb

LONDON—(AP)—Bernard Shaw has written a play about the world after atomic bombing. It's called "Far-Petched Fables" and will be published before August. So the 92-year-old playwright told a reporter who saw the play listed to Shaw's credit in the 1949 edition of "Who's Who" and telephoned him to find out about it. Shaw's biography in the book, supplied by himself, still gives his recreation as "being past 90."

Saucy Straws in the Sun

Bahamian Fibers Weave High Style Summer Hats

NEW YORK (NFA) Fashion takes over Anglo-Bahian traditions by making intricate hats of Bahamian straw and wadding of American cotton.

To find unusual textures and colors of natural straw, hat designer Mrs. K. Goodfellow went to the Bahamas for silver top, palmtoe and brown coconut. The results are a new "MFG" collection of gay color speed rollers, sunshades, clothes and sailors in neutral shades of straw which can go anywhere this summer that a cotton dress or a cotton suit can go.

EPSTEIN KINARD, NFA Fashion Editor

Millinery stars in the collection of Bahamian straw hats styled for wear with American summer clothes are the hats pictured. Neutral-toned "silver top" palmtoe straw makes the rippled cloche which the picnicer wears (above). The brown and white dotted band encircling the crown drapes easily over the brim. The golfer's sunshade (top right) of pale beige, coconut straw is highlighted by a bold striped for silk band. Western-styled sombrero (center right) of palmtoe straw lies under the chin with a red cord which also rings the crown. Interwoven light and dark coconut straw forms interesting pattern for roller (bottom right) which has striped cotton band around crown.

Let Them Eat Yeast

When spring appetites lag, here's an easy way to increase the family's quota of health-building B complex vitamins and protein. Just add 2 teaspoonsful of brewer's yeast to 2 tablespoons of peanut butter, slightly warmed, mix thoroughly with 2 tablespoons of melted butter and spread on toast or hot breads. Brewer's yeast contains nearly 50% protein and is one of the richest natural sources of vitamin B complex. Unlike yeast used to raise bread, brewer's yeast may be added in small quantities to butter and many other types of recipes without affecting flavor or chemical action and provides one of the easiest ways to increase nutritional value.
